Lauren Feeley Learning

Version: 1.0

Last updated: 13 July 2026

1. Introduction

Lauren Feeley Learning uses cookies and similar technologies to help the website function effectively, improve your browsing experience and understand how visitors use the website.

This policy explains what cookies are, why they are used and how you can manage your preferences.

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website.

Some cookies are essential for the website to operate correctly, while others help improve performance or provide anonymous information about how the website is used.

3. Types of cookies we use

Essential Cookies

These cookies are necessary for the website to function.

They help with:

- Security
- Website navigation
- Contact forms
- Booking functionality

- Accessibility features

These cookies cannot usually be disabled.

Analytics Cookies

Where enabled, analytics cookies help us understand how visitors use the website.

This information is anonymous and helps improve the website over time.

Examples may include:

- Most visited pages
- Time spent on the website
- Device types
- General visitor statistics

Functional Cookies

These remember your preferences, such as:

- Language settings
- Cookie preferences
- Website functionality

4. Third-Party Services

Lauren Feeley Learning uses trusted third-party providers including:

- Wix
- Google Workspace
- Google Calendar
- Google Meet

These providers may place their own cookies where necessary to deliver their services.

Their use of cookies is governed by their own privacy policies.

5. Managing Cookies

When you first visit the Lauren Feeley Learning website, you will be given the opportunity to choose which non-essential cookies you wish to accept.

You can also change your browser settings to block or remove cookies at any time.

Please note that disabling essential cookies may affect how parts of the website function.

6. Changes to this Policy

This Cookie Policy may be updated from time to time to reflect changes in legislation or website functionality.

The latest version will always be available on the Lauren Feeley Learning website.
